Though the clerk is borne on the Estt of the Revenue Commissioner he has been & is still doing the work of both the Offices. He is the only clerk who accompanied the 1st Commissr. As the 2nd Commissr had also taken a clerk with him in addition to his Personal Assistant, this clerk is entitled to the allowance claimed by him. The Jamedar is the only menial Servant whom the Revenue Commissioner took to Delhi and as the Revenue Commd was on duty the Servant appears to be entitled to the travelling allowance claimed in the Bill. Please see the Office note in the file below in re Bills of the 1st Commissr's Estt that accompanied him to Delhi

You do not understand me.
Is it Commissr or Comptroller would have drawn contingencies. What is the basis for calculation paid on that account? Pl.
